

Altar Cloth Embroidered by Swedish King Arrives Here

Associated Press

An antependium embroidered by King Gustav, eighty-nine, for the first Evangelical Lutheran Church of Worcester, Mass., which arrived here yesterday by plane. The altar cloth was formally presented to the Rev. Dr. Victor E. Beck (center), former pastor of the church transferred recently to the Gustavus Adolphus Church at 151 East Twenty-second Street. Attending the ceremony are Gunnar Dryselius, acting consul general of Sweden (left), and Tore H. Nilert, president of Scandinavian air

Gift of a King on View

An antependium, or altar cloth, embroidered by King Gustav V of Sweden, which arrived recently by plane, will be on display tomorrow morning in the Lutheran Church of Gustavus Adolphus, 151 East Twenty-second Street.

The monarch made the altar cloth for Trinity Lutheran Church, Worcester, Mass. The Rev. Dr. Victor E. Beck, now pastor of Gustavus Adolphus, was pastor of the Worcester parish until recently. The cloth will be seen at the local church during the Swedish service at 9:45 A. M. and the English service at 11 A. M. The Rev. Olle Gnospelius, assistant, will preach at the former, and Dr. Beck at the latter.

The antependium is the seventh the King has made on hand-woven emerald-green Venetian silk. He embroidered on it a cross and a rich edge of varying colors.